Read this book and you will be trading stocks, guaranteed. You will learn about strategies and principles that professional Wall-Street managers use every day to grow your own savings and retirement. You will uncover how to actively and passively manage your money in investments that can grow your wealth over time and secure your financial future no matter your background. You can understand and take charge of your personal finances by using top asset-accumulation tactics to make intelligent investments that forge a better tomorrow for anyone. No matter how much time you plan to commit to personal finance and investing, this book will turn your financial goals into an achievable, plannable reality.

John F. Wooten, IV is fed up with high educational barriers to entry into finance. John has been trading the stock market for two years now and absolutely hates seeing Americans who do not take advantage of the massive economic powerhouse we call a nation. Over summer breaks, nine-to-noon trading engulfs John's life with passion and vigor, and trading only escalates after school-year cross-country practice.
